If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy notice.

This list is not exhaustive as there are other circumstances where we may also be required to share information, for example:

- To meet our legal obligations.
- In connection with legal proceedings (or where we are instructed to do so by Court order).

Our relationships with third party services providers are governed by contractual provisions with us and they only have access to personal information to perform the described purposes and may not use it for other purposes.

Where we store personal information

The personal information that we collect is stored within the UK and European Economic Area (EEA). However, there may be some circumstances where it is necessary to transfer and store personal information at a destination outside the UK or the EEA. In these circumstances, we will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that personal information is treated securely and in accordance with data protection law and, in the event that personal information is transferred outside the UK or the EEA, shall ensure that this is carried out subject to the requirements of the UK GDPR.

How long we keep it for

We will only retain personal information for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements. For information collected via CCTV, this will be kept for a maximum of 31 days after which point it will automatically be deleted. Some CCTV footage may be retained beyond 31 days if so required for investigative or evidential purposes.
